

Suggestions To Make Your Concert Experience the Best Possible

GETTING HERE

- Come Early! The Conference Center exterior doors open at 6:30 p.m. each night. Traffic is very heavy. For safety reasons, the following streets near the Conference Center close at 6:30 p.m.: West Temple (between South Temple and North Temple) as well as North Temple (between West Temple and Main Street).
- Ride Trax and FrontRunner Free! Your concert ticket is your free pass. One ticket is required for each rider. Visit rideuta.com for schedules and maps.
- Parking Options: Parking is available at Triad Center, The Parking Place, Eagle Gate Terrace, and Regent Street. Space fills early and isn't guaranteed. See details here. City Creek Center may also have available parking. No parking is available at the Conference Center.

ONCE YOU ARE HERE

- Speed through Check In. Have your tickets ready—either print at home or have up on your cell phone screen. Bring only what you need to ease security checks.
- Share the Concert with Photos and Performance Excerpts: Take photos in front of lobby displays to share with friends and record brief excerpts of the concert to share. See concert program for details.
- Enjoy the Event. We're glad you could be with us. As was the case for General Conference, the audience size for this year's Christmas concerts has been limited to less than full capacity due to the construction and congestion around Temple Square.
